Town follows national trend as the number of empty shops increases

EMPTY shops on Honiton High Street seems to be part of a national trend after an investigation by the British Retail Consortium found that 10 per cent of shops in town centres are vacant.

British Retail Consortium's monthly monitoring report found that thousands of shops were unfilled and also showed the amount of people indulging in retail therapy in July was down 0.4 percent compared to the same month last year.

Helen Dickinson, Chief Executive of British Retail Consortium, said: "A cause for concern is the rise in shop vacancy rates to 10.1 percent.

"The increase in the number of empty shops is an unwelcome reminder of the heavy burden of property costs.

"After a long run of shop vacancies being below 10 percent, seeing them rise over that threshold once again will be a bitter disappointment to many.

"The retail industry is undergoing a transformation driven by technology which is changing the way we shop. Shoppers are demanding a more personalised service and a seamless interaction between physical and digital."

Earlier this month, Honiton Chamber of Commerce chairman Tony McCollum raised concerns over the future of Honiton's high street, pondering what the future might hold for it.

Mr McCollum suggested giving more powers to the town council to help them decide who should take over prime locations instead of, in Mr McCollum's words, "the saturation of charity shops and coffee chains".

Mr McCollum's concerns were echoed by Honiton mayor Councillor Caroline Kolek who has seen the changing face of the high street in her 25 years in the town.

Cllr Kolek had mentioned that when she first moved to the town there were seven greengrocers on High Street, now there are none.

Local resident and member of Honiton Senior Voice Tony Simpson said, while not disparaging coffee and charity shops from the town, Honiton should attempt to make an environment for people and culture.

Mr Simpson said: "Honiton High Street has a good record of re-inventing itself. Years ago it was full of trades; then tourism arrived along with hotels and coaching inns.

"It is a very fine High Street but we should not disparage coffee shops and charity outlets since they each attract people in, stimulate activity and avoid empty premises. But our Neighbourhood Plan should be thinking longer term, not just the latest retail business.

"How can we make our town centre more people friendly?

"We need less traffic on the streets, more pedestrian areas, more seats and garden-type areas and better public transport and cycle access.

"We need to think outside the box and create an environment for people and culture not just cars, traffic and retail.

"People want something different. Honiton could become the most attractive town in East Devon if it can only get its act together."

Honiton is expecting a boost to its local economy when East Devon District Council move their headquarters from Sidmouth to Heathpark Industrial Estate in 2018.

TOP STORIES FROM ACROSS EAST DEVON AND SOUTH SOMERSET

AXMINSTER Could drop-in addiction rehab centre be on the way?

A PARTNERSHIP between charities and police could see a drop-in rehab centre for people with drug and alcohol problems in Axminster.

It is hoped the centre will have a positive impact on crime statistics in the town. The plan was aired in public during the July meeting of Axminster Town Council, but those involved have since refused to give any information.

During the meeting, Axminster mayor Paul Haydon said: "There are confidentiality issues involved. But essentially, there are a group of individuals within the town, residents, whose dependence issues sometimes manifest itself in our crime figures. We sat down to look at whether a one-day drop-in centre can be established and help break the cycle thus improve Axminster for the whole population. Work is still going on."

CHARD Care home manager steals £5,000 from autistic resident

A CARE home manager stole £5,000 from an autistic man she was supposed to be looking after to fund her drug addiction.

Kelly Helliker, 39, helped herself to cash from the victim's account using his bank card and pin over a six-month period to pay for her spiralling codeine addiction.

Bosses discovered the full extent of Helliker's plundering after they carried out an audit at the care home in Langport, Somerset.

When Helliker, who worked for autism care company Lifeways, was interviewed by police she made a full confession and has now repaid the money.

Hilliker was sentenced to six months, suspended for the next two years, and 200 hours unpaid work in the community.

From the editor's chair Honiton is still No 1 for me

HONITON was the first town I worked in as a young reporter. I worked alongside two doyens of our industry, reporter David Haydon and photographer Courtney Harris, for the Express & Echo in two dingy offices above Dimonds newsagents in the High Street.

To start with, I used to catch a train every day from Axminster but later took digs in Church Hill.

Although we never used such a word in those days, I was "mentored" by the combined talents of Messrs Haydon and Harris. I can't believe it was 51 years ago; it seems like yesterday that I was bombing around the lanes of East Devon in my little A35, covering such events as the Coombe Raleigh ploughing match! I thought it was the best job in the world – I still do, although it's been a very long time since I covered a ploughing match.

I soon came to realise that Honiton was East Devon's most vibrant commercial centre and I have had an affection for the town and its people ever since.

Despite concerns expressed in our columns this week about the increase in the number of empty shop premises in the town, I still think it's East Devon's most vibrant shopping centre.

The number of empty premises mirrors what is happening to the High Street in virtually every town in the country.

With the explosion of shopping opportunities available via the worldwide web, being in retail is not the sure-fire path to commercial success that it used to be.

Honiton is not the only town suffering from this worrying trend in Pulman's Country.

Closures of banks in Colyton (Lloyds) and Axminster (HSBC) have left two major town centre premises on the market. In Axminster, the former In-Style premises, part of the Trinity House business, is also vacant. Finding businesses to take such substantial properties is not going to be easy.

Although Seaton is attracting its fair share of resources at last, there has long been concerns about the future viability of the town centre.

In Honiton, attention has been drawn to the number of coffee houses and charity shops occupying prime positions with calls that town councils should be given greater powers to curb the proliferation of such establishments.

Our town centres have faced many challenges down the years – I have no doubt they will survive, but perhaps not how we know them today. Many will regret that.

SOUTH SOMERSET District council appoints new chief

NEW chief executive has been formally confirmed by South Somerset District Council.

A meeting of the authority's council on Thursday, August 18th saw councillors endorse the appointment of Alex Parmley into the key position.

Mr Parmley is currently a corporate director at Eastleigh Borough Council where he leads a major business transformation programme.

Prior to working at Eastleigh, Mr Parmley was a director and general manager at Weymouth and Portland Borough Council.

He will start his role in South Somerset on Monday, October 3rd.

OTTERY ST MARY New recycling system to begin next year

EAST Devon District Council has announced the rollout of their new recycling system but Ottery St Mary residents won't be part of it until summer 2017. EDDC are calling the new service trailblazing.

For the first time, the district's 68,000 households will be able to recycle cardboard, mixed plastics and Tetra Paks which will be collected every week from the kerbside, alongside items that can already be recycled.

Over the next few months, information on the changes to the service will be available on the council's website – www.eastdevon.gov.uk

HONITON Concerns over so many empty shops

EMPTY shops on Honiton High Street seems to be part of a national trend after an investigation by the British Retail Consortium found that 10 per cent of shops in town centres are vacant.

Earlier this month, Honiton Chamber of Commerce chairman Tony McCollum raised concerns over the future of Honiton's high street, suggesting giving more powers to the town council to help them decide who should take over prime locations.

Honiton is expecting a boost to its local economy when East Devon District Council move their headquarters from Sidmouth to Heathpark Industrial Estate in 2018.

COLYTON Protest against bank closure

COLYTON lived up to its nickname of "The Most Rebellious Town in Devon" as residents turned out in force for a protest against the impending closure of Lloyds Bank.

The town received its nickname for the part it played in the Monmouth Rebellion, and some campaigners turned out in period costume.

Lloyds Bank is planning to close its Colyton branch – the only bank in the town – in October.

Campaigners are now encouraging residents to sign a petition against the closure available in Spar, or to email Lloyds Bank chief executive on antonio.osorio@lloydsbanking.com

SEATON Call for Windsor Gardens to fly flag

PATRIOT Eric Bowman has vowed to launch a petition if the Union Jack is not flown permanently in Windsor Gardens.

Seaton mayor Cllr Marcus Hartnell has asked for an element of patience, saying the matter is progressing and that a protocol will be drawn up.

Mr Bowman has been lobbying Seaton Town Council for some time for the flag to be flown.

Cllr Hartnell said: "We are hoping to bring it back to the town council agenda for September or the following month."

SIDMOUTH Beach huts sale controversy is over

THE saga surrounding Sidmouth's beach huts seems to have drawn to a close after the district council announced that all huts had been sold.

East Devon District Council had been heavily criticised for a hike in beach hut prices, which would see the fee doubled over the next two years.

To find out where along the Jurassic coastline you could have a seafront spot, visit the beach huts and beach hut page on the EDDC web site: <http://eastdevon.gov.uk/seaside/beach-huts-and-beach-hut-sites>

Charity head-shavers make 'bald' statement

TWO Honiton residents got into the charity swing over the weekend and faced the clippers to raise money for charity.

Diane Burgess, 75, braved the shave for Macmillan Cancer Support, while 15-year-old Shelby Cox took part in the Big Buzz campaign for CLIC Sargent.

Diane, who lost her husband 18 months ago to cancer, said the disease had had an effect on all her family and wanted to raise some money to help.

She said: "I was watching the television a few weeks ago and saw an advert for Macmillan Cancer Support and the Brave the Shave initiative and I thought to myself 'That's easy enough. I can do that'. So I did. I've raised the £500 I was hoping for, including the £153 made from the public walking past. A big thank you to those that donated."

"Braving the shave just seemed the thing to do to raise money rather than a coffee morning," Diane added.

Friends, family and supporters were on hand to cheer on Diane when she had her date with the clippers on Saturday, on the street outside Shades Hair Design Centre.

On Sunday, Shelby Cox made her mark when she also shaved her head to raise money for CLIC Sargent, the UK's leading cancer charity for children and their families.

Shelby was supported by her friends and family and the staff at Bolts, the salon who opened for the day and donated their time to help Shelby with her new haircut.

Shelby is a cancer survivor herself, and has been cancer-free now for 11 years. She was diagnosed at just two years old with a Wilm's Tumour, but following treatment Shelby relapsed 15 months later. Shelby went through three years of treatment, which included chemotherapy, surgery, stem cell transplant and radiotherapy.

The head shave was part of CLIC Sargent's Big Buzz Campaign, which encourages people to become a "life-shaver" to support children and young people with cancer, many of whom lose their hair during treatment. Shelby chose to hold her event in public to raise awareness for people that get diagnosed with cancer at a very young age.

Shelby said: "I decided I wanted to give back and help people who are or about to go through the same as me".

Susannah Cox, Shelby's mum added: "Shelby went through a lot while she was on treatment, but doesn't remember anything about it as she was so young, which made us extra proud of her, feeling so strongly about wanting to do this. We are all very proud of her."

Joy Morley, CLIC Sargent fundraising manager, said: "I'd like to say a huge thank you to Shelby for joining our Big Buzz Campaign and becoming a 'life-shaver. Shelby is a truly inspirational girl, and people could learn a lot from this young heroine."

"Every day ten children and young people hear the devastating news they have cancer. Many will lose their hair during treatment and our Big Buzz campaign gives you the chance to show support for them by shaving your head and raising money for CLIC Sargent. At the moment we can

■ A PRE-SHAVE, pigtailed Shelby, 15, took part in the Big Buzz campaign and has raised more than £700 already

'Fitz' helps people find the way to the Samartians

BBC Radio Devon presenter David 'Fitz' Fitzgerald has helped Exeter, Mid and East Devon Samaritans to promote a face-to-face service for people in distress.

He did so by unveiling a sign and said: "Almost everyone recognises that the charity operates on the telephone and I wasn't aware that you met people face-to-face as well."

The new signage helps identify the building for people who want to have a face-to-face discussion instead of the more traditional telephone calls, emails and texts answered by the 100 volunteers who run the local branch of the service.

The charity provides support to people who are distressed or in despair which may lead to thoughts of suicide.

People can talk to Samaritans at any time, in their own way and in confidence, about whatever is going on in their life.

The nearest face-to-face point for East Devon residents is the branch headquarters in Exeter.

■ UNVEILED: The charity's new signage is in bright green

Creating a better home for bats

BATS in East Devon should have a better future thanks to the generous response to a Devon Wildlife Trust fundraising appeal – although more support is needed for the target to be met.

The Devon Greater Horseshoe Bat Project works to secure the future of one of Europe's rarest bats – and the wildlife-rich farmland and woodland they rely on.

The project works around several key maternity roosts in Devon including one near Branscombe and one near Southleigh.

Staff from the bat project, which is led by Devon Wildlife Trust working in partnership with local organisations such as East Devon AONB, identified £26,000 of funding required for work to improve bat roost sites.

After the first month, the Homes for Bats appeal had reached 80 per cent of that target, leaving £4,800 still to raise.

Project manager Ed Parr Ferris said: "We're delighted to see such a generous response from local people. We've been working with pupils at Branscombe and Colyton primary schools to inspire them about their local greater horseshoe bats and show them what amazing animals they are."

Ed continued: "People in East Devon can feel proud that their landscapes can still support such special wildlife – but these bats have suffered around a 90 per cent decline in England over the last century so they need all the help they can get. Every donation to our appeal really can help improve things for East Devon's wildlife."

East Devon AONB's Pete Youngman said "Greater horseshoe bats, and the hedges, grasslands, orchards and woodlands they rely on, are great examples of what a beautiful part of the country East Devon is."

"That's why it's so important that these areas are protected for nature."

"One of the reasons East Devon AONB is involved in the Greater Horseshoe Bat Project is to inspire people about the wonderful wildlife around us – so we hope that more local residents and visitors will support the Homes for Bats appeal this summer."

The Homes for Bats appeal is trying to raise £26,000 to cover enhancement of at least one damaged maternity roost as well as restoration of insect-rich habitat around roosts such as the one near Branscombe.

Thanks to match-funding of this project by the Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF), every £35 donated to the appeal releases a further £65 of funds for bat conservation work from HLF.

Donations can be made online at www.devonwildlifetrust.org/homes-for-bats-appeal or by phoning Devon Wildlife Trust on 01392 279244.

Primary school to revive produce show

AWLISCOMBE Primary School PTFA is resurrecting the traditional vegetable, flower and produce show to help raise funds for the local primary school.

One of the judges, Rosemary Sprigg, has been giving advice to the PTFA on how to run the show as she has many years' experience picked up from her grandfather, Walter Stamp, who set up the first committee for a village show after he returned from the First World War.

It was then called 'The Awliscombe and Bucklerell Cottage Garden Society Show'.

It was originally held in a field near the Deer Park Hotel for many, many years until it moved to join the Honiton Show when it was based at the old site on the Honiton to Dunkswell Road. When the show moved to its current site, the flower show marquee disbanded.

Rosemary recalls: "As a child the highlight for me and the other children was the fancy dress competition, baby show and at 4pm the children sports day; the egg and spoon race, sack race and three legged race. There were no health and safety worries back then.

"Then came the presentation of prizes and cups. I remember seeing my grandfather proudly receiving the cups he so deservedly won, year after year.

"I am still the proud owner of one of them given and presented by Mr John Phillips, president, and R.N Bishop, chairman of the show. The date on it is 1945.

"My grandfather kept an amazing garden of vegetables and flowers and loved showing. I spent many a happy hour with him, learning from him, and in time became involved with showing as did my husband, Roger. Even up to the age of 90 he was helping in the garden and still passing on showing tips.

by Peter Hodges
peter@viewnews.co.uk

"I am really pleased that the Awliscombe Primary School PTFA is resurrecting the show.

"It will be on a smaller scale but will still have everything in classes that you would expect from a show.

"I really encourage everyone to enter, have fun, come look and in doing so raise some money for the local school."

Louise Beeken from Awliscombe Primary

School said: "We are really excited to bring the village show back. It is going to be a fun day.

"We really want everyone to get involved. You don't have to live in the village to enter, it is open to all and it's not a serious show, just some healthy competition to bring the community together and raise some much needed funds for the local school.

"Our thanks to the Deer Park Hotel who are generously sponsoring the event so that all the money raised will go to the school."

Mark Godfrey, manager of the Deer Park Hotel, said: "We are delighted to be involved with bringing the show back to the village, especially now we know its origins were by the hotel, which is marvellous. I am very much looking forward to the wonderful array of exhibits, displays and creations as well as some tea and homemade cake. It sounds like a spiffing afternoon."

The event takes place on Saturday, September 10th at Awliscombe Village Hall, from 2.30pm to 4.30pm. Entries to be submitted by the end of August.

Schedules are available at the Deer Park Hotel, The Honiton Inn and Otter Inn, or contacting Louise Beeken by calling 07941 152067 or emailing beekenlouis@gmail.com

Auctioneers to hold movie posters sale

FILM buffs will appreciate a wonderful selection of film posters to be sold by Chilcotts Auctioneers in their September sale.

The 97 prints are original billboard posters that were once displayed outside cinemas and are in extremely good condition.

Auctioneer Duncan Chilcott said: "This remarkable collection was gathered together by a collector from Devon who was passionate about films.

"They are wonderfully evocative of a different era of movie making, and really rather fun."

From the 1910s to 1940s film studios used well-known illustrators with individual styles to promote their movies. Paper shortages of the time meant the posters were usually returned to the distributor to be recycled.

Poster designers in the 1950s worked with more conceptual approaches, whilst in the 1960s the type became a more emphasised element. The collection contains examples of all of these, with some of the posters dating back to the late 1930s. There are well-known film titles such as 'Mommie Dearest' and 'Whistle Down the Wind' and various lesser-known movies including 'The Beast in the Cellar', 'The Night My Number Came Up' and 'No Place for a Woman'.

Film fans will recognise Ealing Studios film posters, and two Miss Marple films featuring the late, great Margaret Rutherford.

Perhaps the most recognisable poster is for the film 'Wizard of Oz', pictured, which was released in 1939 and starred Judy Garland as Dorothy.

Most of the posters are in the UK standard 'quad' size, 30 by 40 inches.

Also for sale from the collection is a first edition vinyl recording of Orson Welles' version of H.G. Wells' 'War of the Worlds', the original radio broadcast that sent panic into the hearts of Americans in October 1938.

"This was a much cherished collection and the vendor hopes that all the posters will find new homes where they can be on display once again," added Duncan.

The posters are to be grouped together and sold at the next Chilcotts 'Fine Art, Antiques and Collectors' Items' sale at the Silver Street Sale Room on September 10th. Viewing is September 8th from 9am to 5pm, September 9th from 9am to 7pm and on sale day from 8.30am. The sale starts at 10.30am.

Support group saved

MEMBERS of the Honiton Devon Carers Support Group are celebrating after the essential service's future was secured for another 12 months.

The Co-operative Funeralcare in Honiton stepped in for the second year running to ensure the future for the support group, with co-ordinator Winnie Cameron calling the service

by Peter Hodges

peter@viewnews.co.uk

they are able to provide 'a lifeline for so many carers and their families'.

Mrs Cameron said: "The Honiton Carers Support Group enables carers to meet others in a similar situation and to attend activities together. Being a carer is truly one of the most challenging things a person ever has to do. I cannot tell you how much the The Co-op's sponsorship means to us all."

The support group meets on the second Wednesday of each month from 2pm to 4pm at the Methodist Church in Chapel Street, just off New Street.

Winnie Cameron and Katherine Ohlsen of the Co-operative Funeralcare, with other members of the support group

■ A BIDDING war broke out for a former trout farm near Honiton before the auctioneer's gavel fell at £260,000 to a local buyer.

The Wilmington Trout Farm in Hayne Lane, Wilmington, was among the West Country lots listed for sale by regional land and property auctioneers Clive Emson in July.

Set in grounds of more than 12 acres, it beat the lower estimate of its freehold guide price by £100,000.

Auctioneer Graham Barton said: "There was fierce bidding for this incredibly rare opportunity to acquire a rural home with a business angle in a much sought after part of East Devon's magnificent countryside.

"With much of the infrastructure still in place, the new owner has the option to resume trading or follow an alternative scheme subject to the necessary consents."

The site includes a stone barn with a flat and workshop. It was auctioned on the instructions of Receivers and was jointly offered with Symonds and Sampson.

● Clive Emson Auctioneers holds eight rounds of auctions at five locations from Essex to Cornwall on consecutive days every six weeks, this time with a total of 154 lots.

The independent, family-run firm has had an excellent first half of the year, selling properties to the value of £84 million at a success rate of more than 85 per cent, well above the national average.

A-LEVEL students in East Devon are jumping for joy after yet another year of fantastic grades.

showed a marginal fall in top grades for the fifth successive year.

The proportion of A* and A grades was 25.8 per cent, down by 0.1 per cent on last year. The pass rate of 98.1 per cent remained the same.

Colyton Grammar School had an outstanding year as no fewer than 14 students are expected to carry on their education at either Oxford or Cambridge.

The King's School, Sidmouth College, Axe Valley Community College and Honiton Community College all achieved high 90 per cent pass rates for all students.

“We have created a real family atmosphere in the Sixth Form Centre where staff know every student well and can therefore support and encourage them to do reach their potential; not only in their studies but also in their extra-curricular activities, so that the students who leave us are genuinely well-rounded adults that are ready for the next exciting chapter of their lives.”

Kilmington Fayre is bigger and better than ever

KILMINGTON Fayre and Flower Show moved from the usual site on the village playing field to the village hall and field behind.

This allowed some new attractions and organisers are happy to report that pony rides, vintage tractors, cars and motorcycles became a welcome addition on Saturday, July 30th.

The flower show is always well supported and this year was no exception with a good show of entries in more than 130 classes.

A show spokesperson said: "The quality of the flowers and produce in the floral marque was outstanding, as were the all children's craft classes.

"In the hall a splendid display of art, photography, cookery and handicrafts, which were also of a very high standard, gave the judges some tough decisions in awarding the twenty plus cups which were up for grabs.

"Outside, a sunny afternoon saw a busy fayre with families having fun at the games and browsing the stalls. A band brought the whole fayre to life and there was plenty to eat and drink.

"The Kilmington branch of the RBL ran the barbecue and the village pre-school served the ice creams, both raising funds for their very worthwhile organisations."

The Baptist church provided cream teas and the Old Inn ran the bar.

In the arena the children's fancy dress, ladies hat competition and some amusing dog games kept everyone entertained.

The spokesperson concluded: "Tales of pirates on the high seas told by The Rattle Box Theatre Company enthralled the children.

"All in all a thoroughly good afternoon at a traditional village fayre."

■ SETTLING IN: Show goers familiarise themselves with the new venue

■ FLOWERS, vegetables, home produce and crafts were on display at this year's Musbury Show.

The event was held in the village hall on Saturday, August 13th.

Photographed are organising committee members Valerie Nicholls, Amanda Hill, Lesley McGowan Lock and Mike Lock just before the doors were opened.

Seaton welcomes country's top town criers

LICHFIELD'S Ken Knowles was the overall winner of Seaton Town Crying Competition 2016, by ANDERS LARSSON.

Owen Collier from Royal Wootton Bassett took silver, followed by Roger Pinder from Kingsbridge in third.

The competition was held at Thury-Harcourt Place on Saturday, August 13th, hosted by Seaton, Beaminster & Crewkerne Town Crier David Craner and the town council.

Mr Craner said: "The day was an overwhelming success. I am so grateful to the town council and everyone else who helped."

Seaton mayor Cllr Marcus Hartnell said: "The town crier competition has become a regular date in the diary for Seaton, and I am delighted that this year's event did not disappoint. Councillors and volunteers put a tremendous amount of effort into entertaining criers from all over the country, and this year using our new base at Marshlands for the first time.

"I would like to pay particular thanks to local business owners Tina and Danny Aedo from Trotters Café, and Carly and James Tribble from Pebbles Coffee Shop, who without we could not have catered for our 38 guests.

"The whole event was co-ordinated by councillor Martin Pigott, with help from his sister Caroline Barrett and our own town crier David Craner.

"The feedback from our guest criers has been extremely positive, which is testament to the hard work of all those involved."

Sun shines on glorious Beer Regatta Week

KEITH Whittaker has been a regular around Beer for many decades and he was unequivocal in his verdict on the 2016 edition of the Beer Regatta.

"I think this has been one of the best I have ever experienced," said Keith.

"Things were different back in the Seventies but it has been a fabulous week with great weather."

With sunshine every day – a first for many years according to seasoned Regatta goers – the village was packed on Tuesday evening for the barrel rolling contest while there was a massive turnout for Regatta Day itself on Thursday with huge interest in the raft races and the children's' fancy dress competition.

The only blip came when the sailing races had to be abandoned when high winds caused one of the Beer Lug-gers to capsiz and had to be towed back to the shore so no prizes were awarded this year.

Among the many cups awarded, highlights included the Alec Perkins Memorial Cup for the best all-round performance in Robbie's Races going to 10-year-old Harvey Green – retaining the title he won last year. Harvey also came third in the Junior Cup rowing race.

Among the special awards the Millennium Cup for contribution to life in the community, first awarded in 2000, was jointly given to Beer Parish councillors Mo Westlake and Mandy Graham.

"I am totally surprised" said Mandy.

"I wasn't even supposed to be here as I was on the way to a gig but Gayle Chapple (regatta vice-chairwoman) texted me to say the PA was playing up and could I come along to fix it!"

Mo was also taken aback by the award – and likewise was lured to the prizegiving on Top Cliff under false pretences.

"A neighbour dragged me out saying she didn't want to come down on her own so they fooled me as well!" said Mo.

"I would like to say that Mandy and I have received the Millennium Cup on behalf of all the volunteers that have turned out to help us to carry out some works in the village that needed doing.

"Without their help we could not have achieved very much at all."

■ The top women's team in the barrel rolling

■ Beer Scouts in the raft race as 'Team GB'

■ Nine-year-old Isabelle Burley won the prize for Prettiest Costume in the six and over age category

■ Harvey Green, aged 10, winner of the Alec Perkins Memorial Cup

■ The Swinging 60s were the winners of the best dressed beach hut competition

■ Millennium Cup winners Mandy Graham and Mo Westlake, flanked by Diane and John Lang, who officially opened Beer Regatta this year

BEER Regatta chairman Kate Boalch has praised the team who helped stage one of the best events in many years.

Kate said that the volunteers, villagers, visiting tourists and businesses, who provided prizes and financial support, combined to ensure the Regatta was a huge success.

"People have been saying it was one of the best and undoubtedly we were lucky that the weather was so good because that obviously makes everything more enjoyable," said Kate.

"I thought the beach was fantastic on Regatta Day and while it was unfortunate that the sailing had to be abandoned the best decorated raft competition was terrific.

"Thanks to the support of Beer Football Club and Beer Sailing Club Robbie's Races were brilliant and it is hard to believe that they were started 15 years ago.

"Also the new small boat fishing competition proved to be a success and there were a record number of rowers for the new look races organised by James Green."

Kate also paid tribute to the work of Heather Teasdale and Carol Green.

The former stepped down as treasurer while Green has also relinquished her duties of selling advertising in the Regatta programme.

As for her own future Kate, who had previously stated she was going to step down after this year's event, is mulling over her position.

"I love it and that is why I do it so watch this space!" added Kate, who had to juggle the demands of being a new mum with Regatta duties. "But I couldn't have done the job without the support of my family. I could do with a second-in-command to learn the ropes and we are always looking to the next generation to come onto the committee and move things forward. At the end of the day it is the village's regatta."

Saturation point

■ RE your front page article on August 2nd [Honiton edition], I couldn't agree more with Tony McCollum about Honiton's 'saturation' of charity shops and especially coffee shops, of which there are at least 15 including the three big chains which I hope are not forcing the smaller ones out of business.

I have lived in Honiton for many years and, like Councillor Kolek, I remember all the greengrocers in the town and now, as she says, there are none except for two small supermarkets with very limited greengrocery departments. Not everyone is able to get to Tesco etc., and I'm sure that many, especially elderly folk, rely on shopping in the town centre.

At a time when we are constantly being encouraged to eat healthier and get fitter, we hear that two fast food chains are vying for the precious post office space in the town centre. As Mr McCollum observes, "where is Honiton heading".

Surely the town council has some power to influence EDDC regarding what the town needs and bringing back business rate relief so that smaller traders have a chance and it's not just a case of filling empty premises with whoever or whatever is able to pay the highest rates.

JELLIS,

Grubby dealings

■ MR Derek Sturch is entirely right in his wish to reallocate the term 'appeasement' to our relationships with China and Saudi Arabia, especially as, in view of this government's seeming inability to negotiate effective trade deals outside the European Union, these are the countries with which we are likely to do more business. Both are regimes with an abysmal record on human rights that post-Brexit Britain, desperate for new trade openings and without the support of our former European partners, is certainly not going to challenge or oppose. Future trading agreements look like being shabby and grubby affairs indeed.

ROBERT BOWMAN,

Congratulations on Millwey feature

■ MAY I congratulate you on your feature on the Millwey Rise Industrial Estate (Pulman's View From, August 9th, pages 15-18).

It makes getting the industrial estate off the ground all worthwhile.

A certain then-young Councillor contrived to hurtle a wooden ashtray to the feet of the Chairman of the Committee when they didn't want to bring a busload of Councillors to Axminster to see the need for an industrial estate in an area where the employment figures were the worst in Devon.

Thank God the bus came and the Council saw the possibilities.

Regenerating Seaton – with pride, praise and positivity

■ IF recent articles and comment in 'View From' accurately reflect the general view, Seaton used to be a bit 'down at heel' but is 'on the up'. It's great.

However, the enthusiasm about recent developments in Seaton risks obscuring the issue of their maintenance. Whether public or private, it is always easier to raise money to pay for development than find the money for ongoing maintenance. Public projects are always budgetted separately as Capital and Revenue. I have been involved in many such projects, and routinely would be asked to allow between 2 and 5 per cent of capital cost of a project for ongoing maintenance. In fact we would often have to convince funders, and partners like the Lottery Fund, that such provision had been identified before they would 'chip in'.

Like them or not, close-up inspection of the 'Waves' shows they are already suffering from corrosion, despite being stainless steel (of unknown grade and questionable finish). One wonders what maintenance regime and budget has been identified to keep them pristine? Elsewhere, and this is not unique to Seaton, existing buildings are in need of TLC. Everywhere we look road edges, kerbs, paving and footpaths, are overgrown (and slowly being broken up by weeds). Road drains and gullies are blocked, roof gutters are replete with vegetation. There's plenty of privately-owned property kept neat and decorated, but also plenty that is not. If Seaton is to go on being "regenerated" by publicly-funded projects like Seaton Jurassic, its car parks and planting, and the new Tram Station when it comes, adequate funds must be found to keep them in the 'new pin' state which creates such enthusiasm. Pride in the place we live is encouraged by the way we keep our public buildings and spaces. If we don't do it properly I fear we risk the excitement of a regenerated Seaton being undermined by this creeping 'shabbiness'.

ANDREW GOLD,
Seaton

■ WE have recently moved to Seaton and would like to say how friendly the majority of people are, especially dog owners, also the helpfulness of tradespeople and medical facilities. The people who are not so friendly and seem to have bad smells under their noses and never seem to smile at strangers are probably the ones criticising the sculpture, they should be happy they are not living in a place where they can be shot at (Tunisia beach) France, Germany and many war-torn places. Life is too short to be moaning all the time.

We would also like to praise the local council for keeping Seaton so clean and free from litter especially at the weekends. So keep smiling Seaton.

As for the sculpture, we like it.

Anonymous letters will not be published except in special circumstances. Letters may be edited to fit the space available. The views expressed in letters are those of the author and not necessarily of this newspaper.

■ FIRSTLY congratulations to Seaton Town Council for having the courage to commission an artist to produce a sculpture – I always thought it was a bit of a sick joke when explaining that Fisherman's Gap was simply a space in the wall, this feature must have brought in thousands of visitors over the years; now you can see a beautiful design either side of the gap and people know where you're talking about.

I guess the people who are complaining must think that the concrete flood defence wall was and still is an attractive proposition.

I have been coming to Seaton since I was eight years old and have lived here now for seven years. Almost every time there is a proposal to do something for the town it seems to be met with a howl of opposition. I remember one public meeting protesting about the Tesco development where one lady was most critical, then admitted that she had not been in Seaton town centre for five years!

Unless we can get rid of this small town mentality Seaton will never move forward – let's hopes 'The Wave' is a start to a more positive outlook and exciting initiatives.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

THE Carnival sea is here once again and I hope the Carnival will be as successful as previous years. Seaton Carnival is the first in the circuit and I hope we get some good weather on the night. We have a very hard working committee who organise all the events to make the carnival week a very enjoyable time for everyone, so please come along and support all the events in our programme.

Roger Woodland

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

THIS will be my second term as Chairman and I am delighted to be part of a thriving committee. With so many towns having problems raising a Carnival committee due to red tape and lack of support. Seaton should be proud it has people willing to give their time to make Carnival week a success, both on the committee and during the week of events leading up to the procession. Local businesses have been very supportive by advertising in the programme and there are others who have been happy to organise events. We are always happy to welcome new people either on the committee or during the week, so please contact Janine Barradale if you feel you could help. We are delighted to welcome The Romsey Old Cadets Carnival Band to lead the procession, ably supported by The Carnival Band of The Sea Cadets. The Queen's float committee has worked very hard to build a wonderful float for the Queen and Princesses, the theme is a closely guarded secret. Our Queen this year will be crowned by Graham Barton, Auctioneer from 'Homes Under The Hammer'. Thank you one and all for supporting Seaton Carnival week. Please continue to support us by filling the buckets with as much change as you can, so that we can support many local causes. Have a wonderful Carnival week.

June Millman

MESSAGES FROM THE SECRETARY

YIPPEE, it's Carnival time again! We have a full, fun-packed programme for all ages again this year with new events added for the first time. # Welcome to Sidmouth Regatta 2016

27 YEARS ago Sidmouth Sailing Club formed a committee to revive Sidmouth Regatta.

This year again with the support and organisation by the Sidmouth Town Council and following many requests from local residents the Red Arrows will be making a very welcome return and hopefully the weather will permit a full display. It is hoped that the collection at the display will allow it to again be a regular feature so please give generously.

The Regatta format has changed very little over the years. The idea to provide some fun events for the local families and visitors who wish to join in and a more serious side for those who wish to take part in the sailing races. Over the years the event has enabled the local branch of the RNLI to profit from collections during the Saturday evening events. These collections over the years have amounted to a substantial sum.

As you will see from the programme the traditional sea based activities take place on Saturday culminating with a spectacular firework display. Earlier on the popular raft race takes place followed by a courtesy visit from the Exmouth Lifeboat, weather/operational duties permitting.

This years musical entertainment is provided by local bands.

Sundays events are for the children and their families. The events are all free to enter with generous prizes. In previous years there has been nearly 100 entries in the pavement drawing competition alone.

Wet weather contingencies are in place for the drawing competition and the fancy dress should the weather become inclement.

Why not enter the 'Shop Window Competition' and try to win a generous cash prize. We have also been donated a child's bicycle by Jim at W V Fish, The Cycle Shop in Temple Street. We shall be running a raffle for this over the weekend at £1 per entry. Have fun looking in our local shops trying to find the numbered discs. Shops taking part will be displaying a competition poster.

Enjoy the weekend

St Bartholomew's STREET FAIR

2nd & 3rd September

FUNFAIR - MARKET STALLS - MUSIC - EXHIBITIONS - FOOD & DRINK - TASTER SESSIONS
FRIDAY 2ND AND SATURDAY 3RD SEPTEMBER 2016

ST BARTHOLOMEW'S Fair is an annual event in Crewkerne. The fair dates back to Saxon Times and was recorded in the Domesday book.

A chartered fair was a major annual regional market granted the right to be held by the King. The charter was reputed to have been granted in the time of Henry III (1207-1272) probably around 1215 but that document is lost and the earliest surviving record in The British Museum is a court record of 1280.

There has been a funfair in the main street of the town (the A30) since at least 1861 which was accompanied by a major traders market.

Although diminished in scale in the post war years the fair is a survivor. The current owners of the charter, The Rotary Club of Crewkerne District, are reviving the street market and following the success of last year are increasing the number of pitches in the stall market available to traders.

Scott Rowe

PLANNING for later life and retirement can seem complicated and overwhelming.

At Scott Rowe we understand that many people would rather not think about making a Will. However, making one will ensure that your wishes are carried out, utilising any tax benefits available.

If you die without a valid Will then you are said to have died 'intestate'. It can leave your family with a financial and administrative burden when establishing who the true beneficiaries are, and people who you wished to benefit may miss out.

You may also consider making a Lasting

Power of Attorney, to be used by people you nominate to handle your affairs for you, should you become unable to. This can cover your financial future and your personal and welfare decisions whilst you are alive.

We can also advise you on how to fund possible future care, including equity release schemes, and on buying or selling your home if you are looking to move house in the future.

Over 98% of our clients recently surveyed say that we provided a good quality service and that they would recommend us to others. We are friendly and easy to talk to, and we can arrange home visits if that is easier.

COSMETIC EYELID SURGERY (BLEPHAROPLASTY)

AGEING is often most noticeable around the eyes, with excess fat and/or loose eyelid skin producing puffy, "baggy" eyelids and a tired, older appearance. Eyelids may feel heavy and/or interfere with vision.

Surgery to the eyelids to remove unwanted skin and/or fat, "blepharoplasty", can result in significant improvements, rejuvenating the eye and face and producing a fresher, younger - yet still natural appearance.

The excess skin and fat is surgically removed usually from the outside, using natural skin creases, leaving no visible scar. Surgery is performed under general or local anaesthetic, takes 1-2 hours and can be combined with laser skin resurfacing, or injection treatment, to remove facial lines.

Improvement in the appearance is significant but subtle and the usual response from friends (who are "not in the know") is... "you look well" and "not so tired."

Surgery is performed at Nuffield Health Taunton Hospital by a Consultant Oculoplastic (Eye) surgeon who specialises in plastic surgery around the eyes and who also holds an NHS consultant post. In addition the Consultant is highly experienced in the use of lasers for other skin problems such as the removal of fine lines/wrinkles, birthmarks, age/sun spots, moles, thread-veins, excess hair and tattoos.

Our website at www.welc.co.uk provides details on all our treatments. For further information or to book a consultation please telephone 01823 331773 or e-mail us at lasercentre@lineone.net.

Tired looking eyes - Need a lift?

Dark circles, puffiness, wrinkles and creeping of the skin can all make you look (and feel) old and tired. The West of England Laser Centre located at the Nuffield Hospital Taunton offers various treatments to revitalise and rejuvenate your appearance.

- Injectables Restylane & Muscle relaxants
- Blepharoplasty (eyelid surgery)
- Laser Skin Resurfacing

Be reassured that all treatments are performed by a consultant Oculoplastic Surgeon (Surgeon who specialises in plastic surgery around the eyes)

BETTING ON THE FUTURE

By Vicky Shaw, Press Association

MANY people aged 55 and over now have more choice when it comes to how they splash their retirement cash, thanks to the new pension freedoms launched last year.

But new research suggests that, far from looking forward to spending money on far-flung holidays or investing in properties, many over-55s are simply worried about how they will get by in their later years.

A survey of people in this age group found nearly one in three (30%) say their financial situation is already "uncomfortable".

Meanwhile, 42% are worried about running out of cash in retirement and 44% are concerned about their future financial security.

The retirement freedoms, introduced in April 2015, give over-55s a greater ability to use their pension pot as they wish, rather than being required to use their pot to buy a retirement income called an annuity.

Alongside the reforms, the free, impartial Pension Wise guidance service has been launched, to help people decide how to make the most of the freedoms.

But Experian's research suggests that many people planning to take money from their retirement pot early will use it to make ends meet.

Around one in six (16%) over-55s surveyed are likely to withdraw some money from their pension pot early, before they reach retirement age.

More than one in three (36%) are considering to use the cash to support day-to-day living costs, while 27% plan to pay off debts.

Meanwhile, 15% of over-55s admit they do not understand what the financial options are as a result of the pension freedoms, according to Experian's research among more than 1,800 people in this age group.

Nici Audhlam-Gardiner, managing director at Saga Investment Services, describes the findings as "concerning" adding: "Our research shows that 55% of over-50s expect to retire later than they did five years ago, or have put their retirement on hold."

She continues: "Many also under-estimate how long they may live, and how long their retirement money needs to last them."

"When it comes to accessing retirement savings, people should take care to look at the tax implications of withdrawing too much in one go, and if possible seek advice to make sure that whatever they can spare is invested so it keeps earning before it's needed."

Here are some tips from Experian for taking control of your money management in and approaching retirement:

- Know what you can afford. Make use of on-line budgeting tools or get help from bodies such as Citizens Advice Bureau if you need help in planning your finances. If you take out credit, make sure you'll be able to afford to repay what you owe on time and in full each month - bearing in mind that your disposable income may reduce when you decide to retire.

- Make sure the Bank of Mum and Dad can afford it. More than a quarter of over-55s have supported someone else to buy a property, according to previous research from Experian. This is despite one in six (15%) of those who have supported someone else saying they are "not at all" financially comfortable themselves. If you are considering supporting a family member financially, ensure you realistically have the flexibility in your finances to do so and that your financial wellbeing won't suffer in the future as a result.

- Just because you retire doesn't mean your credit score does. Although you might have paid off your mortgage and be virtually debt-free, you may wish to access small amounts of credit in the future. Keep your credit score in shape by regularly checking your credit report and consider using a small amount of credit wisely each month.

- Share your knowledge. Financial stability in later life often results from careful planning. It's important that younger people don't turn a blind eye to the future and get on top of their finances at an early age to give them the flexibility to plan for the future. Try to ensure you are playing your part and help them learn from your experiences - be they good or bad.

- Be fraud aware. Fraudsters are increasingly targeting older people with scams to invest cash into fake schemes that can seem very convincing. Be extra-vigilant in protecting your information online - always use strong, unique passwords for your online accounts, never share bank or other sensitive details via email, and check your bank statements and credit report for unusual activity.

TOP TIPS FOR HELPING AN OLDER PARENT GO ON HOLIDAY

PLAN AHEAD: Older people may worry more about travelling and be more anxious about the practicalities of travelling by bus, train or air and by the physical strain. They may also worry about a foreign climate or unknown environment. So the first thing to do is to plan ahead. Discuss with your parent the sort of holiday they might enjoy, the places they fancy going to, length of travel they feel comfortable with and the type of accommodation they might enjoy. This will vary by preference and also depending on if they are travelling with their partner, friends, alone or wish to join a group.

ELIMINATE ANXIETY: Discuss any concerns your parent may raise about travelling and discuss solutions to their worries so they can look forward to their trip without recurrent anxiety.

PRE-TRAVEL ASSESSMENT: A pre-travel health consultation may reveal the need for special advice on the mode of travel, choice of destinations and route. Always ask your parent's doctor for adequate medications to cover the whole trip and with some to cover possible delays. Familiar medications may be difficult to obtain locally overseas and may have different names or tablet doses.

BE AWARE ON THE IMPLICATIONS OF PRE-EXISTING ILLNESS: Those taking medicines for chronic conditions may have more difficulty remembering to take their tablets when away from home. Reduced stomach acidity may predispose older people to gastro-intestinal infection. Hot climates may aggravate low blood pressure especially in those on anti-hypertensives or anti-Parkinson drugs - this can cause problems in those who get transient cerebral ischaemic attacks (TIA's). There is a greater likelihood of accidents in the elderly especially in unfamiliar surroundings. Poorer balance and postural stability make falls more likely. Reaction can be slower. Brittle bones in the elderly make fractures more likely. Capacity for exercise is often reduced with ageing. Impairment in sight and hearing loss can cause confusion in unfamiliar situations - for example in reading important notices or hearing loudspeaker announcements. Poor short-term memory may mean that travel proves more stressful.

VACCINATIONS: Vaccinations take time. Consult your parent's doctor or nurse as soon as possible, ideally at least four weeks before travelling. Age is not a contraindication for any vaccine and even if you have received the vaccine before boosters may now be necessary. While age and experience may help travellers to be more careful to avoid risks, vaccinations are as important for older people as at any age. Age gives no extra 'natural' immunity to infections and it can make older people more likely to become ill or have complications.

BOOKING HOLIDAYS: People are now living longer and such is life that few of us are spared from developing age related ailments like arthritis, osteoporosis, circulatory and respiratory conditions, things that can often affect mobility. When booking holidays for the elderly, do not assume that the travel agent, or if booking independently, the accommodation owner is aware of individual care needs. This must be clearly explained at the time of booking to avoid any disappointment. It's also a good idea to research the resort, locate the nearest medical centre and check the layout of your accommodation. The last thing you want is to find yourself in a villa that has no flat access or ground floor rooms when you have mobility difficulties.

HOT CLIMATES: High temperatures can be dangerous for older people and can cause cramps, heat exhaustion and heatstroke, which can be fatal. Drinking plenty of water and keeping hydrated is essential. Taking medication can also have adverse effects in hot weather. Diuretics, sedatives, tranquilizers, heart and blood pressure medications can make it harder for the body to cool itself, so it's wise to seek medical advice regarding holidays for your parent before they travel. Also, make sure they use high factor protective sun creams, as aged skin tends to be thinner and sunburn can be worse, making them more susceptible to skin cancer.

IN FLIGHT: Lack of exercise in airports and on aircraft can result in venous thrombosis and possibly pulmonary embolism. Swollen ankles can result from sitting still for long periods in a restricted space. Regular exercises on flights are very important and the aircrew may be able to advise your parent. Angina and breathlessness can be worse at high altitude and sometimes in aircraft. If warned in advance the airlines may provide additional oxygen. Those with unstable or insulin dependent diabetes mellitus, confusional states and urinary incontinence can have difficulties during flights - usually manageable if you are prepared in advance.

The sound of modern Nashville to launch The Hideaway Bar

Wrecking Ball

WRECKING BALL is fast becoming the most sought after country-rock band in the UK, and will be playing live at The Hideaway Bar's launch night on Sunday, August 28th.

Created in honour of some great nights spent in Honky Tonks in Nashville, Tennessee, and Texas the band simply wanted everyone to have the fun they've had. Right down to the 'Haller and Swaller', baseball caps, boots and jeans and the famous Nashville 'Tip Bucket'.

Wrecking Ball is a southern USA experience that is filling the void for a growing younger audience hungry for Zac Brown Band, Eric Church, Keith Urban, Luke Bryan, Jake Owen and other mainstream USA acts.

Labels aside, the fact is that this it is just great music, country rock rich in classic rock sensibilities, story-telling lyrics and stomping rhythms that appeal to the wider UK audience.

The Hideaway Bar is the new live music venue at the Royal Oak, Crewkerne. The launch night takes place on Sunday, August 28th, with doors opening 7.30pm, and tickets £5 on the door.

Kiwi comic to headline Pilot Boat comedy night

COMEDY returns to the Pilot Boat Inn in Lyme Regis next week with a host of comics fresh from the Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

The award winning Kiwi comic Javier Jarquin will headline the latest Pilot Boat comedy night on Saturday, September 3rd supported by a line up of top acts and regular MC Tom Glover.

Jarquin has just returned from the Edinburgh fringe where he has been performing his hilarious new show 'Hombre Al Dente' to rave reviews from punters and critics alike.

A master of observational comedy, Jarquin has cemented himself on the UK comedy scene having relocated from the southern hemisphere in 2010, where he had established himself as a TV comic in Australia and New Zealand.

Having originally established himself as a comedy magician with his act as the 'Card Ninja', Javier is now better known for his razor sharp wit.

Opening the show will be

former South Coast comedian of the Year and rising star on the circuit, Mike Cox. Instantly likeable, Cox has been dubbed the new Rob Beckett and is similarly cheeky and hilarious in his approach to stand up. Fast rising up the comedy ladder, Mike Cox is a name to look out for as he's destined for bigger and better things.

Completing the bill will be two of the best new acts on the circuit in Sunjai Arif and Aaron Simmonds and regular compere Tom Glover will host the show.

"After a break for a month for the Edinburgh festival we're back at the Pilot Boat for our fourth comedy night," he said.

"The first three have been excellent and we've had great support from the Lyme Regis crowd. I think this month's show offers something for everyone, I've worked with all the acts and they're all hilarious in their own unique ways.

"I hope we can continue to build on the success of previous shows and I can continue to bring the best new names in stand up down to Lyme Regis."

Tickets for the show are £8 and are available on the door. However, to avoid disappointment, you are advised to get your tickets in advance direct from the Pilot Boat Inn or reserve them on 01297 443157.

Sparkling performance on Beer Wurlitzer

THE YOUNG and talented Richard Monks, a dance and theatre organist, made a welcome return to Beer on Saturday, August 13th. As always, he presented a lively programme of popular music which included James Bond theme tunes, a selection from Cole Porter, Les Miserables, the Muppets and iconic music from the eighties. The audience appreciated his dexterity and speed in playing rag-time, especially his triumphant finale to the show of South Rampart Street Parade.

Richard commented "It is a great pleasure to play on the Beer Wurlitzer and I have thoroughly enjoyed myself today". He plays throughout the UK, not only in dance and show venues but also in churches and, as well as electronic and pipe organs, he also plays keyboard and piano and enjoys teaching people of all ages. Richard is also interested in aviation and the sciences, having an honours degree in biochemistry.

The next show will be on Saturday 10 September at 2.00pm, when the Friends of the Beer Wurlitzer are pleased to announce that David Lobban, direct from the Blackpool Tower Ballroom, will make his first visit to Beer. # Put art into your autumn almanac

IT'S THAT 'back to school' time of year again, but it's not just schools that are gearing up for another season: at Ilminster Arts Centre a brand new term of art courses means that whatever your age, September is a great time to start learning a new skill, or perhaps polish up an old, slightly rusty one...

This season's 'one-off' one day art and craft workshops include Mixed Media Mosaics, Bookbinding, Drawing Robins in Coloured Pencils, Wire Sculpture, Christmas Textile Collage Decorations, Fabric Bags, and Collagraph Printing.

The Arts Centre also runs weekly art classes which run over the course of a term with expert tutors and small class sizes to ensure individual attention. So this September, why not learn the art of watercolour painting with Nicky Clarke, or discover the techniques and skills involved in drawing Animals and Birds in Pastels with wildlife artist

Linda Hampson. Acrylic Painting with tutor Shena Bulcock is the perfect course on which to discover the versatility of this medium and the course is suitable for complete beginners or those wishing to develop existing skills. Shena also teaches our Start to Draw workshops, which explores various ways of drawing and improving observational skills in a relaxed mixed ability class.

The Art Centre's regular one day workshops are held monthly and these include felting, knitting and crochet, and rag rugs. For those who can't commit to a whole term of tuition, these pay per session workshops are also perfect for those who want to try their hand at a craft they've not done before. That said, many of these workshops have devoted followers who attend every month - crafting can be surprisingly compulsive!

For more details go to www.themeetinghouse.org.uk or pop in and collect a new season's brochure. To enrol on a course, call the Box Office on 01460 54973 or pop in to the Arts Centre.

An exhibition of art from the heart

THE latest exhibition at Ilminster Arts Centre does exactly what it says on the tin - bringing together three painters and a sculptor who are showing their work together for the first time. The four artists, who based in Somerset and Devon, each bring a deeply personal interpretation to a range of subjects including still lives, landscapes, and studies of human and animal figures. A graduate of Reigate Art School, painter Vanessa Smith works in oils and acrylics, and is particularly interested in exploring the interplay of light and shade. She says of her work, "I paint what attracts me and whatever the subject, I try to express what moves me."

Frances Dale turned to painting having studied Medieval History and History of Art, drawing inspiration from her home near the East Devon coast. She too works in oils and acrylics, and is intrigued by beauty and the metaphysical: "I love the mystery of a faceless figure; what are they thinking, where are they in their journey through life?"

Marion Sawl has been interested in painting since childhood, preferring paintbrushes to dolls. She was born in Kent but has lived and worked in Devon since 1987. Although she studied at St Martin's School of Art, she describes herself as essentially a self-taught artist. She works in acrylics and watercolours, and her work is represented in many collections at home and abroad.

Somerset sculptor Stephanie Hobhouse works figuratively. She models her subjects in clay and these are then either fired, or cast in bronze or bronze resin. Having trained at the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Geneva, and then as a photographer at the Regent Street Polytechnic, she now concentrates on figure modelling, particularly enjoying making child and dog likenesses.

The 'Three Painters & a Sculptor' exhibition takes place at Ilminster Arts Centre at the Meeting House from Tuesday, August 30th to Saturday, September 10th. Open 9.30am-4.30pm Monday-Friday, and 9.30am-2.30pm Saturdays, admission is free.

A 'Meet the Artist' preview of the exhibition will take place on Sunday, August 28th, 3-5pm. Admission Free. All welcome.

PROPERTIES WITHOUT BORDERS

A CHARACTER house with its own drive and nearly four acres of woodland, gardens and grounds on the Dorset-Devon border is among the highlights of properties coming to auction.

Borderlands, in Green Lane, at Raymonds Hill, is among the West Country lots listed for sale by the regional land and property auctioneers Clive Emson in September.

Already with three bedrooms there is potential to create a fourth bedroom/suite for a relative on the ground floor during updating of the property.

Located between the seaside resort of Lyme Regis and thriving market town of Axminster, it has a freehold guide price of £300,000 to £350,000.

Auctioneer Graham Barton said: "This is an incredibly rare opportunity to acquire a detached character home of this calibre.

"What makes this property so special is its 1.57 hectares (3.88 acres) of stunning gardens and bluebell woodland with the potential for an infinite number of uses.

"We expect Borderlands to appeal to private buyers as well as the building fraternity with the potential for redevelopment or extension subject to the necessary consents."

Further into East Devon in Harcombe, not far from Sidmouth, a detached 'chocolate box' cottage with an orchard of nearly an acre has a freehold guide of £300,000 to £350,000.

With commanding views over glorious open countryside, the two-bedroom property also includes an enclosed garden, barn and garage as well as the southerly facing orchard.

It is being jointly offered Redferns of Sidmouth.

Clive Emson Auctioneers holds eight rounds of auctions at five locations from Essex to Cornwall on consecutive days every six weeks, this time with a total of 137 lots.

The firm, which is Britain's largest independent regional land and property auctioneer, sold land and property worth more than £17.5 million at its July sale with 154 lots catalogued.

Starting at 11am, the sixth of Clive Emson's eight regional West Country auctions in 2016 takes place at the St Mellion International Resort, St Mellion, Cornwall, on Thursday September 15.

Owners of land and property across England and Wales will also be able to sell online in a new digital service.

Clive Emson Auctioneers Online starts in September and complements the firm's live auctions. Lots from property listings will be sold upon the 'fall' of an electronic gavel, with bids placed via smartphones, other handheld electronic devices and desktop/laptop computers.

Sellers pick a reserve price, a finishing date and time which suits them – once the clock has reached zero, the highest bid is accepted if it is above reserve.

SPOTLIGHT

SPOTLIGHT ON MY SERVICE

Jim Rose Qualified Window Service Engineer

My name is Jim Rose and I am a fully qualified window and door service engineer, repairing double glazed windows and doors in the Exeter and East Devon area for over 30 years. before establishing my own repair business 20 years ago I worked for national companies Anglian and Europlas where I gained vast experience in many areas of my trade and excellent customer care skills.

I specialise in Misty double glazed sealed unit replacement, this is when it looks like there is condensation between the glass, all my replacement units are manufactured locally and carry a 5 year guarantee. I measure and fit all my own units which helps to keep costs competitive.

If your windows and doors are draughty, leaking or not closing correctly there are things that can be done to resolve these problems, sometimes it is just a simple adjustment or maybe new hinges or closing mechanism, no matter how old they are there is normally a solution many parts are still available.

I offer free quotations with no call out charge and all my repair work carries a guarantee.

I can be contacted on

My Car Check market guide: August 2016

MY CAR Check's valuation experts reveal significant trends in the UK used vehicle market and choose a car and bike of the month.

Head of Valuation Services at My Car Check, Gavin Amos, said: "Often overlooked as a used vehicle, the BMW X1 represents a surprisingly affordable route into the premium sector. They take mileage very well, have the typical BMW driver-focused appeal, and offer plenty of room as a family car. Perhaps due to competition from the likes of Nissan's Qashqai and Audi's Q3, the X1 often seems to fall off the radar. As a result, there are usually plenty on the used market to choose from. The frugal yet flexible diesel engine models generally hold their value better, and full service history is a big plus."

As to market trends, Amos said: "Used car sales have slowed over the last month, which is only to be expected at this time of year. Retail customers are spending their disposable income on holidays, so motor dealers' forecourts are quieter than normal. Come September, with the kids back at school and the arrival of the new 66 plate, there'll be a surge in new car buying activity, with plenty of good condition trade-ins providing a welcome boost for the used market."

On the motorbike, scooter and moped sector, My Car Check's Rob Hobson said: "All Honda Fireblade CBR900RR examples are increasingly sought after, from the first incarnation in 1992, by legendary Japanese designer Tadao Baba, to the last 2002-04 model, prior to the launch of the current CBR1000RR. The Fireblade went through many changes – gaining weight, losing weight, and being more and less track-orientated – with some models more in demand than others. The 954cc CBR900RR is still relatively affordable and an un-crashed example, if you can find one, will do everything you could ask of a road bike. As always, checking the history will help you avoid a lot of the common used market pitfalls."

As to market trends, Hobson said: "It is very much a mixed report this month. New registrations for 2016 are still up, although July was down compared to the same month in 2015 – the first time that's happened this year. Most feedback also suggests that the used market is rather muted. It might well be down to lack of use thanks to the unpredictable weather, but people seem to be hanging on to their existing bikes. There are certainly fewer prime condition examples available to buy, and demand is sluggish. Hopefully a few weeks of late summer sunshine might prompt a bit more activity."

With information from the police, DVLA, insurers and finance houses, My Car Check holds comprehensive data on every vehicle on UK roads – things that buyers should be aware of before making an offer.

CDL Vehicle Information Services, which owns My Car Check, performs over a million look-ups a day for companies including AutoExpress, CompareTheMarket, Go-Compare, Monkeysupermarket, Swiftcover, Tesco and WhatCar?.

SsangYong creates a new class of car – the 'SUV-Estate' – as Tivoli XLV goes on sale

THE Tivoli XLV – an extended body model of the already popular SsangYong Tivoli compact SUV, is now on sale from £18,250 or just £198 per month on PCP*.

"The SUV market has seen rapid growth and our new Tivoli launched last year is already the best-selling model launched by SsangYong," said Paul Williams, CEO of SsangYong Motor UK. "Some 100,000 have now been sold around the world."

"Tivoli has been praised universally for meeting a number of customer requirements, not least its ability to carry five adults in comfort, and for having one of the largest boot capacities in its class."

"Now SsangYong has gone a step further by launching an extended car to provide even more carrying capacity and practicality, and we believe that this will enable us to compete with SUVs such as the Nissan Qashqai, but also station wagon style cars like the MINI Clubman, Skoda Yeti & Roomster and other small estates."

Prices start from just £18,250 for the Tivoli XLV 1.6 diesel manual 2WD – that's just £1,000 more than for the equivalent Tivoli ELX – £19,250 with automatic transmission, £19,500 for the Tivoli XLV 1.6 diesel manual 4x4, and £20,500 for the 4x4 with automatic.

Sharing the same platform and 2,600mm wheelbase as the Tivoli, the XLV features a lengthened body from behind the C pillar, an increase of 238mm over the standard car, expanding the load capacity to a huge 720 cubic litres of space. Meanwhile, the styling cues that distinguish Tivoli are retained, including its harmoniously fused SUV body design, sports coupé look and floating roofline.

Designed to offer a multi-role, multi-function solution to a wide range of customers, Tivoli XLV provides just the versatility needed to meet individual lifestyles: family car for lugging baby buggies and cots for small children, bikes and golf clubs for the sports-minded, and materials or business equipment during the working week.

Passenger safety has been a top priority for this car, and comes with seven airbags including front, side and curtain airbags plus a driver's knee airbag, multi-function ESP (Electronic Stability Program), Active Rollover Protection, Brake Assist, Hill Start Assist and ESS (Emergency Stop Signal), a tyre pressure monitoring system and a warning reminder on all five seat belt positions.

Tivoli XLV is offered with a Euro 6 compliant 1.6 litre diesel engine, and matched with the option of a 6-speed manual transmission or 6-speed Aisin automatic, two-wheel drive or 4x4.

The newly developed 1.6 litre e-XDi160 diesel engine produces 115ps/3,400–4,000rpm max power with 300Nm/1,500–

2,500rpm, and delivers a smooth, progressive and powerful driving experience. It also features a fifth generation E-VGT turbocharger which maximises performance especially in the mid-low speed range so it is fun and responsive to drive. With manual transmission there's also ISG (stop/start) to meet the demand for low CO2 emission levels.

The 1.6 litre diesel engine achieves a CO2 emission level of just 117g/km (two-wheel drive, manual transmission with Stop/Start), and economy of up to 62.8mpg on the Combined cycle.

Renault offers a great deal more to 66-registration car buyers

RENAULT is offering motorists who are looking to treat themselves to a new 66-plate car a whole host of exciting offers across its entire model range.

In addition to its two-year and four-year Renault Selections PCP packages, Renault is offering customers even greater choice with a three-year option, whilst anyone who purchases a Clio, Captur, Kadjar or All-New Mégane after a test drive will receive an extra £500 towards their new car over all other offers.

As part of the limited time offers, the innovative rear-engined, rear-wheel drive Renault Twingo is available from the unprecedented price of only £7,995 for the SSc 70 Expression – representing a saving of £1,500 on the normal list price. Cool, nimble and with five-door practicality, the Twingo offers a huge array of colour, trim and personalisation options and has scooped top city car award wins in the 2015 British GQ Car Awards and TopGear Magazine Awards. The cash offers are available across the stylish, fun-filled range including THE COLOR RUN Special Edition – now costing only £8,995. With a £1,500 saving on its normal list price of £10,495, THE COLOR RUN Special Edition is packed with features that include the R&GO® application that allows any compatible smartphone to turn into an infotainment and navigation system, alloy wheels, an electric panoramic folding sunroof and is available in an array of nine exterior colours and four interior colours.

The Clio supermini, can be purchased on three-year, four-year and 0% two-year Selections PCP packages. On the three-year package, and after the test drive offer of an extra £500 takes the total manufacturer deposit contribution to £2,500, the Clio can be purchased from just £159 per month with a deposit of £9472. Customers who prefer the 0% APR four-year hire purchase offer can drive away a number of versions with the help of a £1,750 manufacturer deposit contribution, which includes the additional £500 for taking a test drive.

The Renault ZOE, three-time winner of the What Car? 'Best Electric Car on Sale for Under £20,000' award, is available in Dynamique Nav specification on a two-year Selections PCP package, costing just £189 per month including battery lease* after a customer deposit of £1,499. A free** 7kW wall-box home charger is also included in the offer. Both the ZOE Dynamique Nav and the Expression Nav come with a manufacturer deposit contribution of £1,500 when financed via 0% APR four-year hire purchase deals.

The popular Captur compact crossover – voted Most Highly Rated Car by owners at the 2016 Honest John Awards – is available from just £179 per month after a deposit of £607, via one of Renault's new three-year Selections PCP packages. Those who take up this offer also benefit from a total manufacturer deposit contribution of £2,250 after taking advantage of the test drive offer. Alternatively, Captur customers can finance their new Renault on four-year and 0% APR two-year Selections PCP packages, or with a 0% APR four-year hire purchase offer that on many trim levels incorporates a £1,500 manufacturer deposit contribution once customers have enjoyed a test drive.

Included in the new offers is the recently launched All-New Mégane, which is available on the three-year Selections PCP package from £219 a month with a £1,330 customer deposit, which after the £500 test drive promotional offer includes a total manufacturer deposit contribution of £2,250. There is also the option of a four-year Selections PCP package and a 0% APR four-year hire purchase scheme.

The Kadjar crossover – voted Best SUV in the 2016 Auto Express Driver Power awards – can be enjoyed via a three-year Selections PCP package starting from £239 a month after a customer deposit of £888. The offer also includes a total manufacturer deposit contribution of £1,750, which incorporates the extra £500 when a test drive is taken. As with the All-New Mégane, the Kadjar can also be purchased on a four-year Selections PCP package or financed via a 0% APR four-year hire purchase offer, the latter including a total manufacturer deposit contribution on certain versions of £1,100 after customers receive an extra £500 contribution for taking a test drive.

In addition, there are a host of other finance options available across the wider Renault range. Whichever option a customer chooses, they will benefit from the Renault 4+ warranty and Renault Assistance vehicle recovery scheme which provides the ultimate peace of mind for four years or 100,000 miles.

Tigers off to a flier with back-to-back victories

South-West Peninsula League Division One (East)

Sidmouth Town 0 Alphington 1

EARLY missed chances were to prove costly as Sidmouth Town slipped to a home defeat on Saturday.

They should have been two up inside the first 15 minutes with Shaun Densham and Connor Swinger both missing good opportunities.

The game was scrappy throughout and lacked any real quality in the final 3rds and was crying out for someone to show a little bit of extra quality.

Both defences were resilient with Pete Eveleigh being solid for the visitors.

Sidmouth were the better team in the first half but needed to get their passing and high pressing game going, as all too often they were hitting long balls and not retaining the ball well enough and this played right into the hands of the visitors.

The second-half was a mirror image of the first, with very little quality. Sidmouth still resorted to a long game to the frustration of the home management and this suited the Chronicles as it was bread and butter stuff for the solid Eveleigh.

In the last 20 minutes the game opened up with Alphington keeper Jack McAndrews being forced into a terrific save from Densham who hit a shot on the turn inside the 18 yard box that looked to be heading into the bottom corner, but McAndrews had other ideas and, at full stretch, managed to get finger tips to the ball and divert it around the post.

In the 80th minute, and with their only clear shot of the game, Alphington snatched the winner; Aaron Land provided a through ball to Josh Hole who rifled past Steve Jones in the Vikings goal.

In the final stages McAndrews was at it again producing two terrific late stops to keep out MoM Jamie Newbery and Densham.

Sidmouth: Jones, Poynting, Newbery, Clarke, White, Jones, Dobinson, Antat, Swinger, King & Densham. Used Subs: Binion, Wellman, Bowditch. Unused Badcott, Harwood.

Axminster Town 2 St Martins 0

AXMINSTER played host to St Martins on Friday night for their first home game of the season after an impressive away victory at Appledore the previous week.

The Tigers took the lead in the sixth minute when new signing Danny Clay found Luke Finn who cut the ball back for Jonny Hurford to comfortably slot the ball home.

For most of the first half both teams seemed content to play the ball too quickly and resulted in too many long balls going adrift.

The game had little quality but the visitors began to exert more pressure and Axminster's defensive pair of Chris Duchenski and Elliot Dyer coped well against the powerful threat of Ace High the St Martins number 10.

Moments into the second half St Martins produced their best chance; High flicked on for Ivan Kalinov to pounce but his shot flashed narrowly by.

The Tigers responded and a neat one-two between Nathan Warren and Craig Every set Gary Spiller free but his shot was off target.

Soon after this an Oscar Latas header was scrambled off the goal line.

Warren then forced Bailey into a fine save as Ax took control. They doubled their lead in the 79th minute when Latas raced away from the to score with a neatly taken low shot.

The Tigers are due to visit Alphington tonight (Tuesday) looking to extend their promising unbeaten start when they entertain Brixham AFC next Saturday (3pm) before the much-anticipated local derby at Sidmouth Town next Tuesday (6.30pm).

HONITON with John Pawley

Monday: The seniors had the return friendly match versus Tiverton GC.

In glorious conditions the Chairman arrived on the tee, and enjoyed the golf that our re-furnished greens have provided.

Though a little on the slow side, with all the dressing applied last week, the initial reaction was positive.

The match ended in a 4½-1½ win for Honiton but a narrow overall 6½-5½ aggregate loss on the home-away score.

Tuesday: There was no organised mixed event this week, the club held the Steele-Perkins Memorial competition for men and ladies.

The winning male was Rob Sexton with a wonderful score of 40pts followed by Max Pipe with 39 and Ken Wood with 35.

The winning lady was Jackie Seager with an even better 42 followed by Stephani Barnes next with 40 and Susan Hyde with 36.

Wednesday: The Ladies played a 3BBB Stableford with two scores to count on a lovely still summer's day.

With the dry conditions, and newly cut fairways, big scores were anticipated – whilst the new greens still provided a challenge.

The winners were Anne Davies, Liz Wood & Cherry Liell with 80 points on count-back from Chris Pearce, Jenny Raison & Sheila Taylor with Henrietta Bradshaw, Liz Rogers & Linda Northover coming in a close third with 79.

Friday: The overnight rain and low cloud ensured that the seniors Texas Scramble had to be cancelled.

The captain did however accompany a few hardy souls who managed to play 10 holes before retiring to the clubhouse.

Beer fall at Valley, but Long stop earns Hippos a point

Match report - Premier Division Clyst Valley 2 Beer Albion 1

BEER Albion supporters who travelled to Winslade Park on Saturday were left wondering how their team contrived to lose their opening League encounter with Clyst Valley after being in control for long periods of the game writes Richard Honnor.

The Fishermen, with several new faces in the side, took time to settle.

As the game progressed their new midfield combination of Ben Vine, Simon Smith and Sam Phillips started to dominate possession and forced three corners in the space of 10 minutes but they failed to create any clear cut chances.

They were almost made to pay when a defensive error by Foster left the home forward clear but his lob hit the underside of the bar with keeper Matt Rooke stranded.

This galvanised Beer into their best spell of the game and, on 31 minutes they took the lead when Chris Long finished clinically from 12 yards after Smith and Luke Morrison had combined well.

The second half started scrappily until 62 minutes when a long range effort from Smith sailed over the bar after Beer's best move of the half.

The Fishermen then took control and a great ball from Richard Walker found Long but his 20 yarder was straight at the keeper.

Then the game swung dramatically when Clyst substitute ChimChinnah had an immediate impact. A miscued clearance by Walker fell to the sub and he beat Rooke from 18 yards.

The Fishermen were now under pressure and Rooke kept his side in the game with a couple of fine stops.

Beer almost won the game on 87 minutes when full back Josh Harrison headed straight at the Keeper and Morrison shot just wide two minutes later.

But the Fishermen were denied a share of the points late in injury time when Chinnah popped up again to score the winner.

Beer have no match next weekend but the 2nds open their account with a home match against Newton St Cyres Reserves in Division 5 (3pm ko) match sponsor is Pecorama at Beer, Gardens, Games, and Trains.

Round-up by Collin Goodwin

UPOTTERY hopes of a winning start to their first ever season in Premier football were ended by a 1-0 defeat at HEAVITREE UNITED.

The Heavies, under new manager former Exeter City star Sean Divine, benefitted from a first half Callum Hoare goal, although the same player later missed a penalty.

Champions TOPSHAM TOWN had to settle for a 1-1 draw in their opener against HONITON TOWN who are being tipped as title contenders.

Honiton took the lead through Corey Couch but Topsham equalised right on half-time through Alex Gibbins and were denied in the second half when Honiton keeper Matt Long saved a penalty.

SEATON TOWN also won 2-1 after falling behind, at home to NEWTON ST CYRES. Matt Hancock and Seth
